Learning for Life are a specialist provider of education and care for adults with high support needs, special educational needs or disabilities. Based in the North East of England, our team of professionals are passionate about providing a learner centred, stimulating, effective environment where learners can fulfil their potential and prepare for life ahead. We assist every individual to celebrate their unique identity and support the young peoples' desire to achieve ambitious goals.

This is a newly created post at such an exciting time to join the team!

Is it for you?

This is a vital support role - we need someone who is hands-on – a doer, a great organiser and with an ability to self-manage – but a people person. A vital role for us as without fundraising and support we cannot continue to do what we do so well. You will be a great networker and have an ability to promote the charity and help fundraise.

We are looking for an enthusiastic person with the personality, drive and energy to help us make this Charity even more successful.
